A petition presented by the businessmen, which was signed almost 100 per cent., asking that the mayor declare Boxing Day, December 26, a civic holiday, was read, and a resolution was passed asking the mayor to declare December 26 a public holiday.

Accounts for $942.00 were presented from the Didsbury Hospital, being the unpaid bills of the residents of the town who had received treatment at the Hospital. The secretary was instructed to write to the persons owing these accounts and report at the next meeting.

West Telephone Co. Gets Good Sign-up

A meeting of the Didsbury West Mutual Telephone Co. was held at Melvin School last week and it was reported that a sufficient number of shares had been sold to complete the organization of the company.

Ninety-seven subscribers have signed up to date, of which seven are new subscribers, and it is expected that from ten to twenty others will subscribe.

The by-laws of the company were presented to the meeting and ratified.

The directors will proceed to make agreement with the Alberta government telephone department for the purchase of the line, and the company will likely commence operation early in the next year.

Social Credit Meeting.

That social credit is interesting the people of this district was evidenced by the large crowd which attended the meeting held at the Opera House on Monday evening. Rev. H. J. Wood occupied the chair.

The question period was an interesting part of the meeting, and the speaker dealt with a large number of questions from the floor of the house.

The meeting was brought to a close about midnight.

Remembrance Day -- Its Memories And Lessons

The world has commemorated another anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, the sixteenth, Remembrance Day, as we have come most appropriately to call November 11, falling on a Sunday as it did this year, was observed by hundreds of thousands of people in nations all over the world. From the pulpits of churches of all religious denominations Peace sermons were preached and the horrors and brutality of war vividly depicted and unanimously condemned. Gathered at the graves of Unknown Warriors, assembled about cenotaphs and other monuments erected to the memory of the gallant dead, or meeting in solemn memorial services, men and women formed an almost unbroken circle around the world as they stood with bowed heads and in impressive silence as the hour of eleven o'clock struck.

It was Remembrance Day! People were flaring red poppies symbolical of Flanders Fields and of the bright red blood of youth there shed. Reverently they laid wreaths of poppies in many hallowed spots. People heard the pipes and drums play "The Lament", the bugles sound "Last Post" and "Reveille", and they saw the Colors slowly dipped.

Pride and sorrow were interwoven and strangely mixed as the memories of those of the older generation were carried back to 1914-1918 and to the first Armistice Day. Pride that men, and women too, had responded to the call of duty when that call came; sorrow that so many had been called upon to make the supreme sacrifice or to go through life maimed and handicapped to the end of their days. And mingling with pride and sorrow there was a righteous anger that such a barbarism as War should be permitted and sanctioned by peoples and nations styling themselves Christian and civilized.

But does Remembrance Day mean nothing more than this? Does it begin and end with the twenty-four hours of November 11, and are we then to lapse into forgetfulness for the remaining 364 days of the year until once again November 11 calls upon us to stand in silence and remember?

Consider, you who are now reading these lines: Have the memories stirred only a few short days ago not already begun to fade? Is not that almost red hot righteous anger against War and all that War means which you felt so recently already cooling off? If your passionate demand for Peace, and that never again shall War blast its way in this world, as keen today as it was when you stood in a silence that could almost be felt just a few days ago? Alas, it must be so. Indeed it is well that in many respects our human memories are short, else we could not bear the burden which memory would bring. But it is vitally important to the future of mankind that we should never forget all the tragedy that Remembrance Day brings to mind. For the fatal selfishness of War is concerned, every day should be Remembrance Day.

Canada is a peace-loving country. If the decision could be left to the Canadian people there would never be another war waged anywhere in this world's surface, nor upon its seas, nor in its air. Canada has always set the nations an example in disarmament; or rather by its refusal to engage in armaments. Our polity permanent force and numerically small and widely scattered militia is but a domestic police force maintained to guarantee law and order. Of offensive armaments Canada possesses none.

But as a nation of Peace, Canada has a duty to the whole world. At Geneva the voice of Canada is always raised for Peace; in world conferences Canada's vote is always cast for Peace. But the responsibility is ours to make our voice for Peace stronger and still more emphatic in a world of nations apparently bent upon engaging in a race for warlike armaments unparalleled in all history.

Narrow nationalism, with all its selfishness, its suspicions, its jealousies and its animosities is the basic and underlying cause of war. The truth of this statement is emphasized over and over again by the well known international correspondent, Isaac F. Marcrosson, in an article entitled "Does Europe Want Disarmament?" Selfish nationalism wrecked the World Economic Conference called to bring about tariff and currency readjustment and because of that failure the whole world still staggers and suffers. Selfish nationalism has rendered every disarmament conference a failure. And because men still insist upon such narrow national selfishness, the nations are heading straight into another war.

Canada is not free of the taint of selfish nationalism, but it has not the grip on the people of this taint that it has upon the people of the older countries of Europe and Asia. Nevertheless, if Canada's voice for World Peace is to be as strong and emphatic as it ought to be, the Canadian people must not only place a curb upon the growth of any spirit of selfish nationalism but we must seek to eradicate it from our individual minds and hearts and from the policies of this Canadian Dominion.

Let us remember and keep fresh the memories and lessons of Remembrance Day, after War and all that tends towards War, and think and plan and live for Peace at home and in the world.

Dominion Drama Festival

Brilliant British Playwright Pays Compliment To Canada

Canada is fortunate in having the Dominion drama festival established on such a firm basis, in the opinion of Noel Coward, brilliant British playwright, composer and actor, who is paying his first visit to Canada.

The Drama festival, he believes, is a distinct contribution to the theatre in that it makes people "theatre-minded", and stirs up interest among the members of Little theatre groups, their friends and associates in an ever-widening circle.

"It is most interesting," said Mr. Coward, in an interview at Ottawa, "I should like to attend a festival. If possible, I shall be here next spring."

Only 56 years old, Mr. Coward is one of the most successful living writers for the stage. He already has had 21 or 25 plays produced. Now he is on the way to Milwaukee to attend a rehearsal of his latest play, "Point Valain", which will open in Boston Christmas night.

Business Improved

Conditions in General Throughout Canada On Uptrend

Conditions in general throughout Canada have improved considerably and gradually since the low point in the early spring of 1933, the executive council of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association reported, coincident with the official opening of the Produced-in-Canada exhibition in Montreal.

Further the council believed encouraging were presented in regard to empire trade. For the 12 months ended September, 1934, Canadian exports to empire countries represented over one-half of total exports to all other countries. The report adds "for this 12-month period our exports to empire countries amounted to almost $321,000,000 which is greater than our exports to empire countries in 1930 when they amounted to $216,000,000."

"Our exports to foreign countries, however, for 1930 were no less than $567,000,000 as compared with $307,400,000 for the year ending September, 1934."

Hogs graded in Canada for the first 43 weeks of 1934, ended October 25, numbered 2,373,094, a decrease of 174,248 on the corresponding period of 1933.

Good Success Is Attained In Search For Drouth Resisting Wheat Of High Quality

Six years' intensive study to-day is bringing success in the search for a drouth resisting wheat with all the qualities of the famed Marquis and Herward strains.

"Drouth resisting wheat, including all the desirable agronomical qualities, is being achieved although a few years more will be required before it is ready to be placed at the disposal of the growers," declared Dr. O. S. Aamodt, youthful member of the department of field crops, University of Alberta.

Dr. Aamodt took time out from the sessions of the associate committee on grain research, a branch of the national research council, to detail achievements reached. "But don't think we are producing a wheat that will grow without moisture," he warned. "That is impossible."

The characters developed so far in the drouth resisting wheat hybrid were the ability to resist permanent wilting, growth habit, favorable dry periods, intensity of root systems and ability to germinate in dry soils. "Experiments in actual growing in the last two years show clearly drouth resistance can be transferred from one variety to another and in combination with other desirable agronomic qualities," Dr. Aamodt declared.

Ability of the strain to resist permanent wilting was among the major assets. Many wheats in use now take root and start to grow when a dry spell sets in, but they wilt and die. The objective in the drouth resisting wheat is to give it the ability to recover from the wilt, a case of lying dormant when moisture is lacking and taking life again when rain falls.

The growth habit came in for study when it was found drouth caused its greatest damage when the green shoots started to appear. Tests made show the drouth resisting hybrid goes through the shooting period in one week compared with two or three weeks for most other grains. Thus the danger period to the plant in its early stages is greatly reduced.

Intensity of the root system was a vital factor because the greater the intensity the more moisture the plant is capable of drawing from the soil. In this respect Dr. Aamodt pointed out past studies throughout the world were largely confined to the part of the plant above the ground.

Lives Like Robinson Crusoe

German Has Enjoyed Himself On Island Twenty-Two Years

Paul Tile, a German, has been living as a modern "Robinson Crusoe" on a small island near Plat, Jugoslavia, for twenty-two years, and enjoying it. He was discovered recently and now crowds are visiting the place. Even women, whom Tile dislikes, have "crushed" the island by wearing make-up because the man has planted orchards and vineyards, raised goats, kept bees, built a house made fishing nets and tools, and woven cloth for his clothes. He has even built concrete bridges across the narrow strip of water which separates his island from the mainland. Tile, once was a German hotel keeper. He divorced his wife in 1912, and since then has always shunned the sight of a woman. He sold his hotel, and bought the island.

Learned Another Way

A bumptious fellow was giving evidence in a police court.

"You say you stood up?" asked the Magistrate.

"I said," retorted the convicted one, "that I stood. If one stands one must stand up. There is no other way of standing."

"Oh, isn't there?" replied the Magistrate.

"I say two pounds for contempt of court, and stand down!"

Attendant: Do you wish to consult Wessing Footing, the great Chinese mystic?

Canadian Employment Gains

Increase Of Ten Thousand Workers Shown As At Oct. 1st

Industrial employment in Canada at the beginning of October showed an increase of over ten thousand workers according to a statement released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Reports were received from 8,564 firms, whose staffs aggregated 933,480 persons, as compared with 923,078 in the preceding month. The gain in employment at this time of the year is particularly important, as in the thirteen preceding years for which statistics are available activity has frequently declined between September and October. The index, based upon the average for the calendar year 1929 as 100, stood at 100.0 on October 1, 1931, compared with 98.8 on September 1, 1931, and 99.4 on October 1, 1930.

The most outstanding feature of the October 1 survey of employment was the unusually pronounced expansion in bush operations, which directly provided work for over 7,000 persons among the co-operating firms. Mining showed the greatest October 1 gain on record; transportation, building and construction trade also reported considerable improvement over the preceding month. A slight advance occurred on the whole in manufacturing, being the ninth consecutive gain since the opening of the year. On the other hand, communications, highway and railway construction, and hotels and restaurants showed a large number of persons as the active season drew to a close.

Showed The Way

Being asked, after his great voyage, if he did not think others could learn anything from him, Columbus is said to have invited the questioner to make an egg stand on end. When he failed, Columbus struck the egg on the table and said it stood on the broken part, so suggesting that now he had shown the way to the New World anyone could follow it.

Studied Heat Casualties

More Men Affected But Death Rate Higher For Women

Staff physicians of hospitals at Kansas City, who treated many heat victims last summer, are now checking over their records and seeking to throw more light on the subject. Medical literature, they say, does not have a great deal of information on heat attacks.

At General Hospital 62 cases were treated of which 64 per cent were men. The others were heat exhaustion. In the former it was found the temperature usually was far above normal, but the body was cold and clammy. More men were killed by the heat than women, but the mortality rate was higher for women. Death resulted in 34 of the 82 cases. 32 of the deaths being among those suffering from heat stroke.

Other data showed that where the temperature reached 168 degrees death resulted in 63.4 per cent. Those who suffered from cyanosis (blue lips and finger nails) died in 78 per cent of the cases. The death rate of those who lost consciousness was 55.5 per cent. All where blood pressure went down died and 51.5 per cent of those whose pulse beat passed 110 beats a minute succumbed.

Providing Timothy Seed

Thanks to the generous efforts of the Dominion Seed Branch and farmers who have followed the branch's policy, Alberta and British Columbia this year will provide 50 per cent of Canada's timothy seed requirements. Prices are the highest in years. At an average of 15 cents a pound, Alberta's crop will be worth $250,000.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SNAPSHOTS AT NIGHT

Just a few bright lamps and a little care will make those snapshots like this easy. Arrangement of lights, subjects and camera indicated in the diagram.

Until recently, the idea of making snapshots at night ranked alongside that other classic picture-taking impossibility—a snapshot of "a black cat in a coal pile at midnight." But now, with the new extremely sensitive films and brilliant, inexpensive lights, snapshots indoors at night are as easy as any others.

Let's say you want to snap Sue at the piano—assuming that Sue looks and feels natural there—taking your stand, with camera, off to the side of the piano. There's an ordinary floor lamp—one of those three-light affairs—just beyond the piano, and another on your stand. Both lamps are just beyond the field of your camera lens. Tilt the shades so that the light reaching your subject is unobscured. Put two or three photoflood-type lights in the lamp that's beyond your subject, one in the nearer lamp, turn 'em on and blaze away.

The regular snapshot exposure—1/25th of a second—will do the trick nicely, assuming your lens has an opening of f.8.3 or greater.

The diagram above indicates the relative placing of subject, light and camera for the picture of Sue at the piano. Naturally, you will arrange the lights as you see fit, but keep in mind these simple rules:

First, light intensity decreases rapidly as the lamp is pulled back from the subject. Six feet away, a lamp's picture making brilliance is only a quarter what it is at three feet.

Second, shield your camera lens from the direct rays of light.

Third, while you can use photofloods in pictures, they are good for at least two hours of picture making in ordinary situations, they are more efficient in reflectors—either home-made or inexpensive purchased.

Fourth, don't try to light up everything in a picture. Shade is just as important as the highlights.

Fifth, avoid lighting that illuminates both sides of a subject's face equally. The result will be flat and unnatural.

Sixth, always use modern, super-sensitive film. It's available in the standard makes, at very slight extra cost.

Seventh, snapshots may also be made with photoflash bulbs. If you want to stop jumping players in action, for example, these handy, safe, inexpensive flash bulbs are just the thing. One of the medium-size bulbs will do very well in an average room. If it's a large room, use the standard makes, at very slight extra cost.

The possibilities for indoor snaps are endless. Light up the hand at this kind of snapshotting, you're missing a lot. And that's too bad.

Speaker Maintains That Drouth Is Only Passing Phase And Climatic Conditions Not Changed

CHOOSING YOUR SWEETHEART BY HIS HANDWRITING

By LAWRENCE HIBBERT (Grapho-Analyst) (All Rights Reserved)

(Editor's Note: Many letters of appreciation have been received from readers who have accepted the author's offer of a personal analysis from their own handwriting. Have you read yours? See the announcement following this article.)

The value of Grapho-Analysis is never more evident than when it is used to assist Cupid. For it tears aside the veil that love so often wears, and reveals in unerring fashion, the characteristics of the writer.

It is not merely a question of honesty and straightforwardness—although these are points that have to be considered. The emotions and the degree of expressiveness of these emotions—these are of vital importance.

Take, for example, a girl who has a warm and ardent nature; who feels things very deeply, and who expresses them freely. She likes to be loved and would be very unhappy without the affection of others. What chance of happiness would she have, married to a man who is cool and unemotional; who dislikes any manifestation of affection and who is governed by his mind that he hasn't a generous streak in his nature?

Only the other day, I received a very poignant letter from a girl of 24 years of age. She was married two years ago, but has never been happy since the first rupture was parted. She is of the type I mention above, and asks me why she is unhappy, and wonders whether she is responsible.

The writing of her husband, which she enclosed, shows that he has about as much feeling and affection as a gargoyle.

Two are too many; I can see very little chance of happiness for them. Here is a case where the advice of a Grapho-Analyst would have prevented much unhappiness.

There is an old saying that opposites make the happiest marriages. This is fallacious. Look on every side of you, and you will find married people who are unhappy and discontented, because their natures are so unlike.

Marriage demands affinity of interests. It is too much to ask, or to expect, that the average couple will have all the same interests, the same likes and dislikes—and there is a good deal of compromise necessary in most marriages.

But a young couple whose natures are at the opposite ends of the pole are starting out with a tremendous handicap. And that it is too great a penalty is seen by the number of unsuccessful marriages.

M. H. Toronto—My all means are your husband for divorce. Yours is a sad case. Married four years ago, your husband left you three years ago, and now you meet a young man who loves you. He is a straightforward young man, and is trustworthy; which cannot be said for your husband. I am writing you direct regarding the personal matter.

Can the author help you? Can he show you what your friends are really like? A personal analysis may be very helpful to you. Send specimens of the writing you want analysed, and enclose 10c coin for each. Send with 3c stamped addressed envelope, to: Lawrence Hibbert, care of Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 173 McDermott Ave., Winnipeg, Man. Letters are, of course, confidential, and will be answered as soon as possible, but please allow about two weeks for your reply.

An Ancient Puppet Show

Small Figures 5,000 Years Old Found In Tomb

Marionettes have been found among the rubbish in the shaft of a tomb near the pyramid of Sesotris at Lisht. The tomb is of the twelfth dynasty and the objects found in the rubbish are certainly of that period, so that there is no doubt the new finds are 5,000 years old. There are three figures two inches high representing little men dancing and clapping their hands. One of the tiny men apparently had grown horns. Mounted on small pedestals they fit loosely into an ivory slab, and both pedestal and slab are pierced with holes through which strings can be threaded and pulled to make the figures dance.

"Did you pass your exam?"

"Well, it was like this, you see—"

"Shake! Neither did I!"

Speaking before a Kwanan meeting at Swift Current, Hon. J. G. Taggart, provincial minister of agriculture, expressed full confidence in the future of agriculture in Saskatchewan.

He criticized the theories of impending surface water by the erection of dams and planting trees, in respect to the influence of such practices on climatic conditions. He stressed the need of appraising the whole of Canada of actual conditions in the prairie areas and the facts upon which agricultural recovery should be based.

Declaring that in historic times there had been no substantial change in climate in any part of the world, except through physical influences, Mr. Taggart told of drouth periods in Saskatchewan in the late '80s and the early '90s and in the early '70s, and said these experiences had been worse than the present, there having been great destitution and suffering. The country was not a desert, and one must not accept of temporary conditions as a forerunner of extended drouth, there being every reason to expect a recurrence of wet years.

The problem of the settled districts in the areas affected by drouth was adjustment; a type of agriculture and of life that he adapted to make for reasonable security. Crops should be raised that were best suited to the environment, and it should be recognized that cereal crops were best adapted to the southern Saskatchewan region. Agriculturists should adopt the best methods scientifically and apply the resources at their command to secure the best in cultivation and marketing, experiments of all sorts being conducted before general adoption. Wheat, the minister said, would continue to be the major crop of southern Saskatchewan, plus minor products of other sorts, largely for local consumption.

Scouting the theory of influencing climate by impounding surface water, Mr. Taggart said that dams were valuable for water surfaces, for impounding water for stock and for irrigation to assure winter feed. Tree planting on farms was also valuable for certain purposes, chiefly shelter and improvement of home surroundings, but not as a climatic influence.

Treating of the misconception of present prairie conditions on the part of people in other parts of Canada, the minister declared it to be the duty of citizens to impress upon others the fact that the future of agriculture depends solely on precipitation, not on pet theories.

There were many things that could be done to improve the situation in respect of crops, individually and collectively, but these should be based on adaptation to physical conditions.

Noting that in Saskatchewan areas that had passed through former periods of drouth and in which drouth had again come there was much less suffering than in areas where the settlers had no such experience previously, Mr. Taggart declared his conviction that the agricultural experience of the last few years in Saskatchewan would mean much to our farmers in the next ten years.

Studying Lake Of Reptiles

Expedition Finds Quaker Creatures Within Borders Of Abyssinia

Lake Rudolf, in Africa, where reptiles rule much as they did millions of years ago, is being studied by an expedition which has established itself on a volcanic island of four square miles. The brackish sheet of water covers 3,000 square miles and lies 1200 feet above sea level. It is within the borders of Abyssinia, Kenya, and the Sudan. Crocodiles abound there, while monitors larger than man crawl slowly about, digging for the crocodile eggs on which they feed. They resemble dragons as they thrust out their long purple tongues. Monitor lizards ignore the crocodiles, whose teeth would break against their hard shells. The few species of birds include peculiar spoonbills, which lay orange-colored eggs on rocky ledges, razor-billed skinkers and corncreants, who visit the lake only at night.

Malicious Rumor Unfounded.

Rumors around town to the effect that two prominent businessmen had been convicted of shooting a doe, on a Sunday, in Niche Valley, have been thoroughly probed by Constable W. Dobbin, R.C.M.P., who states that no such conviction had been made at Bowden, Oils, Didsbury, Carstairs or Gravelbourg.

The Provincial Game Guardian at Edmonton also states that he has not been advised of any such conviction.

The rumor also intimidated that Mr. Ira Gamble, of Niche Valley, had laid the information. Mr. Gamble, when interviewed a few days ago, stated that, as far as he was concerned, there was absolutely no truth in this rumor.

Skating Opened at Rink Tuesday

At last the skating has opened at the Didsbury rink and the first hockey game was played Tuesday evening, when the High School team played a pick-up team, the students getting the better of their heavier opponents by a score of 3-0.

A handstand has been erected at the rink and the Boys' Band will play for skating a number of evenings during the season.

Obituary.SUSANNAH SHANTZ

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Susannah Shantz were held at the M.B.C. Church on Sunday, December 15. The services were in charge of the Pastor, Rev. F. Vincett, Didsbury, assisted by Rev. C. J. Hallman and Rev. A. Traub.

A large number of friends gathered to show their respect to the departed. A solo, "Asleep In Jesus," was rendered by Rev. C. J. Hallman, and at the graveside a hymn, "We Are Going Down The Valley One By One," was sung. Interment was made in the Didsbury cemetery.

Pallbearers were: N. B. Snyder, Amos Weber, Ezra Shuck, Oliver Stauffer, Alton Hunsperger, and Elah Shantz.

Mrs. Susannah (Brubacher) Shantz was born at Shantz Station, near the village of Breslau, Waterloo County, Ontario, on October 30, 1847, and died on December 11, 1934, at the Didsbury Hospital after a lingering illness of six months, borne with Christian fortitude, and during which time she received the best medical attention and the care of competent nurses.

She was the second eldest daughter of the late Elias and Sarah (Ariss) Brubacher family. In 1863 she was united in marriage with the late Elias Shantz.

To this union were born six children, three of whom still survive: Sarah (Mrs. Detwiler), of Farington, Michigan; Ida (Mrs. Petrie) and Elijah, both of Calgary. Three children predeceased the late Mrs. Shantz: Jeremiah, Leola and Rose. Five brothers and one sister also survive, two of whom, David and Elias Brubacher, reside in Didsbury.

There are 18 grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren and 3 great-great-grandchildren still living. The deceased also leaves a host of friends to mourn her loss.

The late Mrs. Shantz came to Alberta in 1903 and had since lived in this vicinity, for a number of years before her death living in Didsbury. She was a member of the M.B.C. Church, with which she and her late husband were connected since the earliest years of its inception.

Only Memories

In the twilight, after supper, when the evening chores are done,
And then sleepy stars up yonder from their hiding shyly creep;
Then I like 't sit 't ponder on a life that's nearly run,
While I smoke a pipe in quiet 'fore I tumble off to sleep.
Then 'long about this time o' year my thoughts a-reamin' go,
As fancy pushes back the misty veil of passin' years;
The hands of time move backward, and the softened mellow glow
From an old farm-kitchen window on my vision now appears.
So, joyfully I revel in imagination free,
Till half-forgotten faces smilin' at me through the gloom,
And a happy family fireside I now can plainly see
As I stand within the portal of a once-familiar home.
Ah, those sweet, long-silent voices—how they echo from the past!
And the Yuletide preparation, as the picture brighter grows,
Adds a lustre so endearing, while emotion deep and vast Fills my soul to overflowin' with a joy like heaven knows.
Slowly now, the scene is changin'—once again 'tis Christmas Eve;
I can hear the children's prattle, I can see their faces glow;
Comes a peaceful sort o' gladness, and I long to never leave,
But to stay an' bide forever where life is good 't know.
All too soon the dream is ended—fades the picture, and is gone;
I add the room and strangely quiet as I lift my neckin' head,
Yet a presence seems to hover, tho' I'm sittin' here alone,
With the clock a-softly chimin' "Time for folks to be in bed."
Only memories now linger in the gloom of winter night,
Only memories 't gladden this poor heart that's growing old—
Still aye-reamin' for the old days and the family circle bright;
Only memories to cherish—only memories to hold!

Little Journeys In Science

BACTERIA

(By Gordon H. Rust, M.A.)

When the microscope was invented a new field of science known as bacteriology was opened up. Bacteria is the name given to a large group of plant organisms of minute size. Some of these have a rod-like appearance, some are spherical, and some look like trailing bits of filament. The rod-like type are called bacilli, and it requires twenty-five thousand of them placed end to end to occupy one inch of space.

Bacteria reproduce by the division of their bodies, one into two, and are changing with great rapidity into two. The bacilli which bring about the fermentation of hay, double their length and divide every half-hour.

Many kinds of bacteria are killed by light while others contend with cold. A few varieties, however, exist in a dormant state at 222 degrees below zero. A temperature of 87 degrees above zero destroys most bacteria, but some are known to live in hot springs where the temperature is 104 degrees.

Because they are plants, bacteria have no stomachs, and so they cannot absorb unassisted food. They therefore go into the soil, where they have penetrated into the material which they are going to use for food, they give off chemicals which change the material into a form in which it can be absorbed. Thus bacteria bring about the decomposition of dead plants and animals. Slowly but surely the bacteria bring about complete decomposition of the matter into many substances, including such important substances as carbon dioxide and ammonia. They were not for this purpose. A destruction of all living things on the earth would soon perish because the chemical elements upon which life depends would be locked up in dead plants and animals. Thus the chemical elements necessary to life are always traveling in a circle. Everything come from the earth, returns to the earth and is used over and over again. If the circle is ever broken all life would stop. Bacteria play an important part in keeping this vital circle intact.

A Product Of Proved Merit

Vicks Vapo-Rub, For Preventing Colds, Meets With Wonderful Success

Windsor, Ont. — An intensive newspaper advertising campaign introducing Vicks Vapo-Rub, the new and best preventing colds, has just started in Western Canada. Introduced in Ontario last year and in the United States two years before, Vapo-Rub immediately became immensely popular.

Newspapers were selected as the principal medium for the introduction of Vapo-Rub because of the excellent results they have produced for Vicks Vapo-Rub, according to the announcement.

For many years Vapo-Rub has been the world's most extensively used cold remedy—the family standby for treating colds in 68 countries. Vicks officials attribute much of the tremendous Vapo-Rub sales—over 25,000,000 jars last year—to honest consistent newspaper advertising, backing a product of proved merit.

Similar international success is being achieved now by Vicks Vapo-Rub—company to Vapo-Rub in Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Vicks Chemists and medical consultants developed the formula for Vicks Vapo-Rub after years of clinical research. It is especially designed for nose and throat, where most colds start.

Based on a new idea for preventing colds—by aiding Nature's own cold-fighting functions in the nose—Vapo-Rub is introduced as "the ideal companion to Vicks Vapo-Rub, the modern external method of treating colds." Together with certain simple rules of health, these two preparations form Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Results of thousands of clinical tests—conducted over a period of two years under medical supervision—indicate that Vicks Plan greatly reduced the number, duration and dangers of colds.

In accordance with the Vicks Company's policy for nearly 30 years, Vapo-Rub and Vapo-Rub will be heavily advertised in newspapers throughout the season. They will also be backed by the distribution of thousands of samples through drug stores in the Dominion.

Since 1929, Vicks has steadily increased its advertising while other companies were drastically curtailing theirs or eliminating it entirely. And during these five turbulent years, sales of Vicks products have increased from 20,000,000 to over 55,000,000 packages annually, despite adverse business conditions.

Having been made for more than 100 years the great organ of the Church of St. John Latheren of Rome, Italy, is being reconstructed for use in the next church festival.

A Great Achievement

But Winners Of Air Race Could Not Praise Trip

"Black was Liverpool all the way from Singapore, and we quarrelled all the way . . . It was a long trip, and that's praising it."

A Roman hero, acknowledging his laurels and his triumph, would not have said it thus. Nor would an Elizabethan adventurer, returned from conquering new worlds to accept the boon of Gloriana's smile and the acclaim of England.

But to every age its vocabulary. Thus did C. W. Scott, new-landed with his fellow-pilot, T. Campbell Black, acknowledge the cheering of the throngs that welcomed the victors of the London-Melbourne flight.

"It was a long trip and that's praising it." Though "a long trip" it was a great achievement. The time, 71 hours 18 seconds, bettered the London-Australia record, made a year ago by Captain C. P. T. Olin by more than three and a half days. The speed, over the whole distance of 11,323 miles, averaged higher than two miles and a half a minute. The last 2,000 miles, the most perilous of the journey, were made with one engine "folded up," and in spite of all the odds that had weather could pile up against a crippled plane and strained and exhausted men.

For reckless daring and stubborn courage the story of the last twenty-four hours of the "Jenny trip" to Melbourne cannot be bettered by any Roman historian or Elizabethan chronicler.—Toronto Globe.

Television For Germany

"Conversations" Will Be Possible At 400 Mile Distance

Television equipment is to be installed by Post Officials of Germany in special telephone booths in the larger cities of the country. "Conversations" will shortly be possible at a distance of 400 miles. The two conferring parties arrange a definite appointment and go at the appointed time to the telephone office in their respective cities. They are shown into a special box and take their seats in comfortable armchairs. Powerful ear-lamps are turned on. As soon as the warning, "You are through," comes from the telephone operator, the television apparatus is switched on automatically, and "A" may start to address the head and shoulders of "B," which appear to him on a screen on the side of the television box. Simultaneously the portrait of "A" is switched on the screen in "B's" box.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Lieutenant-Governor Herbert A. Bruce of Ontario has been elected to the board of the Dominion Bank.

Robert W. Babson, statistical expert, advocates a coalition government in the United States beginning in 1937.

"Given similar jurisdiction, namely, monetary and customs control, British Columbia is in a better financial position than the Dominion of Canada," Premier T. D. Pattullo declared in a public address.

Prompt construction of two giant airships, an aircraft carrier and a "flying deck" cruiser unlike any other ship now afloat has been proposed privately to President Roosevelt's aviation commission.

Dr. A. L. McNabb, director of the Ontario health laboratories in Toronto, revealed he had succeeded in isolating malaria germs infecting a human being. He said he believed it was the first time such an isolation had been achieved in Canada.

TELL US HOW TO COOK FISH

—with less work and no odor

Boiled or steamed fish comes out firm and solid, swimming in its own juice, when you cover it with CANAPAR Cookery Parchment. No fishy odor. No gummy steamer or saucepan to clean up afterwards.

And how delicious vegetables are when cooked the CANAPAR way! You can boil three in one saucepan without the flavors mixing—over a single burner. Save fuel. Eliminate odor in the house. Preserve the rich mineral salts. Cut down work.

CANAPAR can be used over and over again. It won't absorb odors. Try it as a dish cloth—especially for glasses.

THE TENDERFOOT

By
GEORGE B. RODNEYAuthor of "The Coronado Trail",
"The Canyon Trail", Etc.

"You see I ain't done much real cow-hand work. I was livin' in town and I got me a little bit o' money. I learnt what I could from a few books I read an' then I come West to learn the business. That's how come I was hired. . . ."

"Huh! Year . . . I . . . ! We see . . . ! That's fine. . . ." Baines took in the creaking newness of boots and clothing, the clumsy equipment on the pony and he grinned into his hand. "I see you've got three noches on your gun," he said, with a grin at the others. "Where'd you buy it?"

"I bought it before I started West. All the books said that a notch is cut on the handle for every man who's been killed. . . ."

"Great God all mighty," said Baines, all at once. "You mean you've killed three men? In Chicago with a machine gun I reckon. . . ."

"None. I done it with an automobile. . . ."

"I got all three of 'em at once. It was just like killin' quail. They was all settin' when I hit 'em. You see I was coastin' downhill an' the machine swingin' off the roadside. They was playin' damned careless, just like you was when I rode up and they was talkin' a lot o' damn fool talk some as you. . . . So . . . I killed 'em. . . ."

At that even Silent Lee laughed. "Oh, let him alone," he said, grinning. "You'll get nothin' offen him."

In this manner did Duro Stone come to the Hour-glass ranch.

The lunk-house did not know that Edith Carr, the pretty, red-headed daughter of old Joe Carr, saw the new arrival. She was mixing a mint

ASK YOUR DOCTOR
FIRST, MOTHER

Before You Give Your Child an Unknown Remedy to Take

Every day, unthinkingly, mothers take the advice of unqualified persons instead of their doctors—on remedies for their children.

If they knew what the scientists know, they would never take this chance.

Doctors Say PHILLIPS' For Your Child

When it comes to the frequently-used "milk of magnesia," doctors, for over 20 years, have said "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia"—the safe remedy for your child.

Remember this—And Always Say "Phillips" When You Buy. Your child deserves it for your own peace of mind, see that you get it—Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Also in Tablet Form
Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale in all drug stores, wherever you live. Ask your doctor for the best evidence of a safe and effective remedy—Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Ask Mother—
She Knows

Mother took this medicine before and after the babies came. It gave her more strength and energy when she was nervous and rundown. . . . kept her on the job all through the change. No wonder she recommends it.

Mothers adopt
Vicks Colds-Control PlanHelps the Whole Family to Enjoy
Greater Freedom from Colds

Doubly welcome to mothers is news that the makers of Vicks VapoRub have perfected a Plan for Better Control of Colds—to help reduce the number, duration and dangers of colds. Vicks Plan is introduced along with Vicks Va-tro-nol, the remarkable new aid in preventing colds—companion product to Vicks VapoRub, the modern method of treating colds. The Plan includes simple, easy-to-follow rules of health—to build resistance to colds.

BRIEFLY, HOW VICKS PLAN WORKS:

• TO HELP PREVENT COLDS

At that first stuffy feeling, that first nasal irritation or sneeze, quick!—Vicks Va-tro-nol—just a few drops up each nostril. Especially designed for nose and upper throat—where most colds start—Va-tro-nol stimulates the functions which Nature has provided—in the nose—to prevent colds and to throw off colds in their early stages. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps to avoid many colds entirely.

• TO HELP SHORTEN A COLD

If a cold has already developed, apply Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster, while its medicated vapors—released by body heat—are inhaled direct to inflamed air-passages. This double direct attack loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion. Often, by morning, the worst of the cold is over.

help for old Joe who was sitting in his front office with his game leg straight out before him on a chair when Stone arrived. She promptly took her "makings" into the back-office but was quite close enough to hear what took place.

"I'm hearin' tell you want new men," quoth Stone. "I'm lookin' for a job."

"Sat so?" demanded Carr. "What kind of a job?"

"Mostly eatin' with a little un-official drinkin' throwed in. I don't mind some ridin' on a nice family horse. I kin split wood and haul water an' . . ."

"By God," said Carr, "that's more'n most can do who hire out as cow-hands. Know anything about cattle or is that cutt all bought from a catalogue?"

"Not all of it," said Stone, grinning. "I won the spurs in a poker game."

"You're hired. Get back over to the lunk-house and kill the first cow-boy who tries to play practical jokes on you."

Edith came back into the room giggling. She had never seen any one just like that before.

"Who in the world was that, Daddy?" she asked. "He looks like a walking advertisement for Christmas presents."

"Looks like he'll do for you to play with. Honey, when he ain't workin', we're sure out of luck when we have to hire men like that. He ought to do to ride fence and leave the other men free for regular work. When Frank Crewe gets back send him in to me, will you, please?"

Edith gave him his julep, noddled her bright head and picking up her quilt, passed out to the tie-back where her pony stood. She was young; distinctly more than merely pretty and she dominated every soul on the Hour-glass. As her father watched her go, his face darkened with wrath where ordinarily it radiated good humor.

"Nothin' good, Joe," he said cryptically. "We've been comb'n the back-ranger for a week an' we got maybe four hundred Nod prime stock at that."

"Four hundred. . . . Joe Carr's tone registered utter consternation. "The beginnin' of the round-up and only four hundred calves from more'n three thousand cows. . . ."

"Calves, hell. . . ." Crewe exploded. "I'm tellin' you, Joe, this four hundred is all! Git that? It's cows an' calves an' steers an' bulls, too. . . . Breedin' stock an' increase. . . ."

Carr tried to rise but sat back with a groan of pain.

"Hell," he finally ejaculated. "That just ain't possible!"

"I know it ain't. And I know, too, where the stuff's gone but I'll be damned if I could either prove it to be our stuff or show how it was stolen. I know those damned robbers over on the Broken Spur are at the bottom of it. I know they sent two thousand head out to California two months ago to fatten for the market and I know they got seventeen dollars where we got eighty-five. They're glad to ship their cows out of the State. But we were asleep. We ought to have a man at the loadin' pens."

"I know. . . . I know," said old Carr placatingly. "I didn't have a man to send, as you know, and I didn't have the money to hire an extra man. I'd give a lot to pin what I know Dustin is doin' on to his card. But I can't. I wish to God we could find that man Gerald Keene. We've talked him over so damned often that I've got to sort of feel he might do us some kind o' good. I don't know but what he might. . . ."

"Huh. If you could get in touch with him, he might," conceded Crewe. "Somethin' got to turn up. . . ."

"Yeah. Like a hog-hauler when you step on the blade an' knock your fool brains out," said Carr viciously. "I got to borrow money to meet our next pay-roll, Frank. I reckon I'm busted flat. I'm sixty-five past and I've got Dustin to take care of. She didn't come till I was past forty. Frank, I got to find some way to take care of her. . . ."

"You needn't worry about her," said Crewe, who openly adored her. "Plenty of men'd be glad to relieve you of that care. Sam Dustin, for instance."

Where Minutes Count

A pneumonia patient should be given emergency treatment as quickly as a man hit by a truck. Dr. Russell E. Carr, of Cornell University, told the Oklahoma City clinical conference. Describing pneumonia as an illness where minutes count, Carr related recent discoveries which have made detection of pneumonia possible within two hours. Previously as long as two days had been required for definite diagnosis, he said.

Like Canadian Fruit

An increase of approximately 3,000,000 pounds in the exports of Canadian canned fruit during the first half of the current fiscal year compared with last year, reflects the appreciation of world epicures for Canadian fruits, says a report of the department of trade and commerce.

Returns From Abroad

Canada's Central Bank will not be modelled after any particular central bank of Europe. Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, declared on his arrival at Quebec on the liner Empress of Britain after a trip of nearly two months to England and on the continent.

Faster Way Found
to Relieve Headaches

NOW PAIN OFTEN RELIEVED IN MINUTES!

Remember the pictures below when you want fast relief from pain. Demand and get the method doctors prescribe—Aspirin.

Millions have found that Aspirin eases even a bad headache, neuritis or rheumatic pain within a few minutes.

In the stomach as in the glass here, an Aspirin tablet starts to dissolve, or disintegrate, almost the instant it touches moisture. It begins "taking hold" of your pain practically as soon as you swallow it. Equally important, Aspirin is safe. For scientific tests show that Aspirin does not harm the heart.

Remember these two points: Aspirin Speed and Aspirin Safety. And, see that you get ASPIRIN. It is made in Canada, and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin tablet.

Get 12 or 24 tablets or economical bottle of 24 or 100 at any druggist's.

Why Aspirin Works So Fast

IN 2 SECONDS BY STOP WATCH
An Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate and gets to work.

What happens in three minutes happens in your stomach. ASPIRIN tablets start "taking hold" of your pain a few minutes after taking.
